bar & restaurant signage to be agreed

Sliding Sash Windows
Detail to be Agreed

Architectural drawing of a building elevation. The drawing shows a gable roof structure. On the left side, there is a chimney. The main body of the building has a gable end. A sign area is indicated by a rectangle with the text "Signage to be Agreed" written vertically. The drawing is a line art representation with some areas shaded in grey.

Rear

This architectural drawing shows the rear elevation of a building. On the left, a dark grey vertical strip represents a wall or boundary. The main facade is composed of several vertical elements: a section with horizontal lines, a central section with vertical lines and three small square windows, and a large section on the right with vertical lines and a large, irregularly shaped window. A small square window is also visible on the lower left. The drawing is a black and white line art representation.

Gable

The floor plan shows a large rectangular area divided into several sections. On the left is a large room labeled 'beer cellar'. To its right is a smaller room labeled 'bottle store'. Below the 'beer cellar' is another room labeled 'bottle store'. A central area is labeled 'Undercroft to Beer Cellar'. A staircase is located in the top right corner, labeled 'down to 1st floor'. The plan includes thick grey lines for walls and dashed lines for structural elements or openings.
