Tree survey: Hole House Mill, Chisworth

Area surveyed as located on Plan March 4 2015.

As per previous survey. Tree cover on area comprises of predominantly over mature multi-stemmed Goat Willow 'Salix caprea'. At the time of inspection many of these trees are coming to the end of their life and are likely to start a cycle of failure within a few seasons. The area shows little evidence of regeneration, the only other tree species making any signs of establishment are some native Alder 'Alnus glutinosa', these are of little significance at present and would be classed as barely established with an estimated age of less than 20 years.

Also of noteworthy significance is the disappearance of a large Ash tree on the boundary that has clearly failed due to natural causes.
