Dear Mark

Thank you for consulting me on the report on the archaeological field evaluation which was undertaken to inform this application. On the basis of the information within it I would have no archaeological objections to the proposed development of the site.

The report does however lack some plans of the trenches, but this is a matter which I will take up directly with the archaeological contractors.

Apologies for the delay in response to you – I was on leave all of last week and am still processing the backlog.

Regards

Sarah
