Comments: I would be good to put this building back into use, however given it is such a unique building in New Mills it would be good to ensure it continues to retain the details it has today.

It is not clear why this property will not follow the existing blue window colours, which are quite a distinctive element of this building. It would be a shame to lose this detail.

Even if it is accepted that the window colours can change, anthracite is not a common colour used by other buildings in the immediate vicinity, which have white (and, further out, brown) windows.
