Comments: There are concerns with regards the terracing effect the side extension will have along Lee Vale Drive. The side extension will run to the boundary and in effect join the two semi-detached properties. No other extension such as this has been approved within the area and there are no other terraced houses of this style in Charlesworth. There are concerns with regards the run off water as the extension will significantly reduce the size of the garden for a four bedroom property.(Below 80sqm)
