Comments: I do not object completely but feel the plan needs consideration. Our home backs on to open land and is sloped, if planning is to commence upon that area of land as suggested it will impact the foundations of our current home and could cause significant damage to the structure. The areas is now full of families and I feel that any further building work within close proximity would cause disruption and so working times plus dust/traffic prevention needs to be considered. I also think consideration needs to be give to the quarry. We feel the blasts in our current property and any closer would impact greatly on any dwellings built.
