Comments: I have lived on Simmondley for over 20 years. There have been many houses built in this area over that time period. We do NOT have the infrastructure to cope with anymore houses in the area. The fact that the main access will come onto the A57 at Dinting School is dangerous and will massively negatively impact ALL commuters in and out of Glossop, which already suffers very, very badly. No public consultation has taken place with either the Planning Dept/ the developers / the councillors. There will be NO affordable housing involved in this development. There will be a massive negative impact on the wildlife currently living in this area. I VERY STRONGLY OBJECT TO THIS DEVELOPMENT.
