Comments: Glossop infrastructure is already under great strain with many children not able to attend local schools. Adding more houses will increase the likelihood that our children do not get to go to a local school and where these children are in the same household it further complicates matters putting our livelihoods at risk.

The woodland between Kestrel View and the planned houses, although not officially on these plans, I believe the current plans further increases the chances of further building and taking down these trees. My fear here is not only for the wildlife and needless destruction of woodlands that's been here for decades is the financial implications building here would have on what is currently a cul de sac. The likely drop in house prices could cripple home owners who have purchased house during the last 2/3 years
