Comments: There simply is not enough capacity locally to support more houses, be that essential services (schools, dentists, doctors etc.) or other infrastructure like roads (it is congested enough at peak times). The focus now should be on improving existing services and facilities, not further overburdening them. Let's not forget we no longer have fully serviced police, ambulance and fire stations, what we do have can not cope as it is, it's simply too much to task them beyond where we are.
