Comments: The access road to and from this development will join directly onto the A57 at Dinting Vale, close by the primary school and church. There are frequently parked vehicles along the roadside adjacent to the school, especially at "school run" times and the road is extremely congested to begin with. As the A57 is the main arterial road through Glossop, it carries not only cars but also buses, vans and heavy goods vehicles. Traffic is frequently at a standstill and this development would only serve to make matters even worse. From the church's point of view, this increased traffic will severely impact the provision of funerals and weddings. There is a lack of parking facilities along the road and funeral corteges often struggle to negotiate the heavy traffic. The school would also suffer since children are dropped off and picked up from nearby where the proposed access road is planned and this would only increase the congestion and risk to children's lives. I would like to object to this proposal in the strongest possible terms as it appears that, once again, a development has been proposed with little or no consideration of the impact on the local community or the ability of the existing infrastructure to cope with the resulting increase in traffic.
