Comments: There is currently no road infrastructure in place for the people who currently live in Glossop. All it take is a set of road works or an accident on the main A57 to bring Glossop to a complete standstill/gridlock. Bringing more houses and people into the area will just makes matter worse. The disruption to traffic whilst they would be building would also effect the area and emissions as traffic would be at a standstill.

We don;t have enough spaces for secondary school children to go to the new school recently built. They are being sent to New Mills or other out of area schools.

We don;t have enough dentists or doctors for the current residents so how would we accommodate even more residents.
