Comments: We fully support this application. Most if not all properties have sheds/stores of some description in our area. Modern family life in our area often involves varying outdoor pursuits, ensuring we keep ourselves and our children healthy and active. Enabling this property to have secure storage allows the option to safely secure equipment.

I personally have no issue with the current build that is in place and do not see the requirement for it to change. As time elapses the new structure is blending nicely into the property. A purpose-built structure is necessary given the narrowing of the space.

The structure does not impact on anyone else's view or light.
