Submission: Objection

Comments: The creation of a ménage results in a large expanse of effectively ‘dead’ ground, with no contribution whatsoever to wildlife or biodiversity and a detrimental visual appearance, especially in a sensitive, very visible rural location such as this. The ménage should be refused, or required to return to the original pasture/meadowland, or the application should be required to provide an equivalent land area of high biodiversity such as meadowland or woodland to offset the negative impact of such an unnecessary development.
