Submission: Objection

Comments: 12, Hollincross Lane, there are too many properties in this area already. Too much traffic, I have lived here all my life and remember when there was nothing but fields in this area now all you see is bricks and mortar. The environment in the area has already taken a battering we don't need anymore damage, just so some fat cat in London can line their pockets. We need what little green belt is left for future generations.
