Good Morning

The application appears to be solely about the main building and not the second area marked in red (described as amenity area) on the application. If this is the case then there are no objection as no trees are impacted. If the second area is to be affected then more information will be required as there appears to be trees in the amenity area that would require assessment, as they are covered by both the conservation area and a TPO.

Yours sincerely

Craig McCrindle
Arboricultural Officer
