Submission: Objection

Comments: Development on green belt land should only be permitted in exceptional circumstances. There is nothing exceptional about this plan, there are more suitable places in Derbyshire. Someone wanting to live in a green belt area is not an exceptional reason. Affordable housing could have built in recent developments around the area but planners builders and developers choose to build unaffordable homes. There are many other reasons not to support development here including lack of infrastructure, losing the character of the area and increasing traffic.
