Comments: I for one significantly object to this change of use. We already suffer significant disruption from activity at these premises, which appear to already be of a commercial nature. The parking by the people at the existing site, both owners and visitors significantly and adversely affects our approach to Taxal (where we live, with no alternate approach route). With cars at the site often parked into and on the carriageway. A road which can only be described as narrow at best. The already chaotic and thoughtless vehicle movement and parking will, in my estimation, only get worse as more traffic will only further harm the peaceful environment at Taxal, and our enjoyment of the locality.
