Comments: This person already operates as a business- against their current planning permission details. Each week there are more and more vehicles arriving and leaving with plants inside. The property has no parking and so people arriving are parking on a very narrow lane and often block the road access for those who live near the church.

The area as it currently is is unsightly, tumbling dry stone walks, patchy fencing and higgledy piggledy parking.

I strongly object to this application on the grounds of traffic management, pedestrian safety, aesthetics, not in keeping with the surroundings and possibly a current breach of planning consent as I believe it is not registered as a business but may well be acting as one.
