Submission: Objection

Comments: The drive to my house is on the corner of Marsh Lane and Station Rd. It is a hazardous turn at the best of times, but with hgv's carrying heavy loads will make this turn really evil. There is no pavement on the bridge and it's hard to walk there. It's my route to the station from my house. How can I get to the station if hgv's are going to "share" that bridge with me? I am going to be in danger either by car or as a pedestrian.

Is this not an industrial enterprise? So what's it doing being put on greenbelt land? We are not allowed to extend houses, or build new houses, so why are they even thinking that they can go further than is and put an industrial installation? It's a bad precedent.

Please do not allow this to happen. This is not a special place for the work. They can use another place.
