Comments: Poor Fairfield is already a dumping ground for incomers.

We have undocumented and unverifiable so called refugees pouring into the UK and the University wants to house them in the quietish town of Buxton. It's a crazy idea.

The University wants to do that after Buxton has finally got the Crescent back to its former glory and just as Buxton is now getting its mojo back after lockdown. I can't believe the Council would even entertain the idea it is utter madness.

We have no police station, overstretched GP surgeries, community health care is rocky, mental health care is on the brink just dealing with people already in Buxton, access to major hospitals isn't exactly easy. And as for schools don't even get me started! Parents already struggle to get their child into their school of choice!

The town centre needs money spending on it, more effort in attracting business and the University's bright idea certainly won't help that. The disruption to Buxton people will be terrible, If this goes ahead it will be the worst decision for Buxton.
