Comments: I am very surprised that I had to hear about this by word of mouth from my neighbour. I have NOT received any communication from anybody. I have already caught one male urinating against my fence and a couple of people looking into the my garden whilst they were walking their dog. I am concerned that my privacy will be compromised and want to know what, if any, measures will be put in place to prevent this happening. How near to my property will people be camping ? This is VERY important especially as the field is higher than my garden and therefore, anyone in the field overlooks my property and can look directly into my kitchen.
