Comments: This development proposal is on a greenbelt site. I thought we were supposed to be saving the planet not destroying it. We already have tremendous traffic problems in Furness Vale with the A6 one of the UKs most congested roads and Marsh Lane that feeds off it is hardly suitable for the extra use which this plan would no doubt generate. The damage to the ecosystem would be immense and I can see absolutely no benefit for the local area and the community. This type of development should be on land that has easy access for the business concerned and the emergency services if required. How much valuable time would be lost getting to the site if a situation developed and the barriers were closed at the train station?
