Comments: I strongly oppose to the plans to house asylum seekers in the university buildings, in an area of town which is already under immense pressure from the local police, housing vulnerable people in an area which is rife for crime and drug use would just not be sustainable. Buxton would thrive from this building being put to use in a way in which the town would benefit I.e holiday lets. There are multiple new housing estates in buxton and surrounding areas which benefit the town with extra spending and income but also this puts pressure on the local schools and doctors surgeries no plans have been made to increase these to manage the influx of extra residents in buxton, how will an additional 200+ asylum seekers contribute to the growing town in a positive way?
