Comments: HPBC have acknowledged that the High Peak population has not grown as much as anticipated in the local plan, so stop already with more houses. This site should not be sacrificed to housing. It's a vital green lung right on central Buxton's doorstep. It's a sanctuary for flat-bound residents. Houses and their associated cars would compound the congestion and the poor air quality the residents of Fairfield are subjected to. Cherish this space, don't ruin it.
