Comments: A fast/large Increase in population would have negative affects due to the lack of supporting infrastructure in the area and job/skilled work opportunities.

I can honestly say that a lot of people in the area wouldnt take kindly to the differing cultures. I have worked with plenty of people thatway inclined. I also think if those seeking asylum cannot find work, it will also add to the ongoing poverty and drug problem in Buxton area which exists and is visible to everyone in and around the area.

I think people need educating on the subject in the first (including myself). That would involve a hell of a lot of funding...far more than any council or university will spend as part of a deal...let alone the conservatives (unless its ligning their pockets too).

It would also require some fantastic marketing, just to reach everyone in the area
