Comments: I feel that turning the halls into a large-scale asylum dispersal centre would see an increase of crime to the area and be bad for the town. the site would be better used as affordable housing for those who need it such as those trying to get on the housing ladder. we have seen in other areas where asylum centres have been put in place the crime rate go up and the animosity it causes . This would be bad for Buxton and its good towns folk. if this happens in Buxton it will destroy it. This coupled with the lack of Police officers in the town will only go one way and its not good.
