Comments: This is a wholly unsuitable and inappropriate application for green belt land. The infrastructure is inadequate (access and servicing). A lithium battery farm is hazardous and potentially polluting. It will despoil a natural area and upset established wildlife. I urge the planning authority to reject this application. In other cases Pathfinder applications have lead to future (now) 'brown field' choice cut sites becoming residential developments through the back door. In any case this is undesirable and universally unpopular locally. There are many better places for such a development should it be necessary at all.
