Submission: Objection

Comments: I strongly object to the planning application for house building on the land at Hogshaw in Buxton. The roads around this area already get congested with the school being up the road and if more homes were to be built, the current roads will not be able to cope (even with the extra road from Fairfield roundabout, there will be extra traffic on the smaller roads). I also object on the grounds that local schools, doctors and dentists are already working at capacity. My daughter's class already has 35 students in, funding and resources are already stretched. The same goes for doctors and dentists. It is difficult enough at present to get an appointment and at times registered with a practice, more people will push stretched facilities even further toward breaking point. I also object on the environmental loss that new homes being built on the site will cause. Flooding risks will increase because there won't be the natural drainage there is now. The loss of the green and open spaces for the people that live close by will be devastating.
