Comments: When Derby University moved into the town they promised to bring more prosperity with HE students and their visitors. I believe that having so many asylum seekers in one place right in the centre of town would be detrimental to tourism. What will there be for them to do? The numbers are too large for the size of the town. There are already 1000 new houses and the pressure on services like schools, dentists, doctors, mental health services, the police, will be too hard a burden.
