Comments: This would be a disastrous decision is allowed for both local residents and any assylum seekers. The town unfortunately does not has the infrastructure to support an influx of . We are under policed with no police station now in the town. We already do not have enough Dr's for residents let alone any additional individuals. There is a lack of leisure facilities in the town to occupy these individuals, hanging around a small town would be very intimidating, especially on darker evenings during the winter months and it would certainly stop me from being about town in the dark. It should not be considered under any circumstances.
