Submission: Objection

Comments: This building was not on original plans and its location is going to cause chaos with cars parked all over. There is enough of a problem now. Also, will there be adequate provision for schooling for any children living in these apartments? The roads on this estate are appalling and will continue to be so until Wain Homes have completed their work. Further building would delay the laying of adequate roadways and pavements. Many of the utility manholes are raised above the level of the road surface and are a constant hazard to vehicles and pedestrians. The erection of a 3 storey apartment block would be out of keeping with the current style of building already on Forge Manor.
