Comments: For many years Chapel en Le frith has been ruined by over development especially the Long lane area, older residents can remember when you could see and hear the many Lapwings and Curlews that nested undisturbed in the marshy fields stretching from long lane to warmbrook now there are none. Along with the many more houses that have been built behind Manchester road most of the flat ground in the valley bottom has now been built on. Only a small area between the properties on long lane and Combs is left undisturbed which includes the proposed site, all of this area should be protected against any type of further development including glamping sites for the sake of future generations.
