Submission: Objection

Comments: Myself and several other residents on the street are concerned that these updated plans do not include the plans for the land at the back of the house, a lot of which is communal land and shared by houses that back on to the land. We have our own garden plots but use communal space out there as well. The builder has stated to another resident that he owns two plots on the communal land and will be making changes out in that space. We have not seen any planning permission for these proposed changes or how they may impact on our own properties. None of us have been consulted on these proposed changes which apparently includes removal of trees from the communal area. We would like to see plans submitted for these changes as well. I have selected the option that I object to the planning application - I would like to clarify that I don't object to the plans for the building but I do object to the omission from these plans of the proposed works on the communal land area to the rear of the houses on that end of Charles Street.
