Comments: Having just moved to the area within the last year I quickly received a note through my door about this application. Having only recently seen previous information about this planning journey and how originally there was a plan to take this green belt land and convert it to 200 new houses (and the journey of this application up to the highest courts), I have to say that that makes me skeptical at the main aim of this glamping application. This is not land that should be used in that manner, this is green space for everyone in the area to be able to enjoy, this is something that appealed to me when moving here and something that you look forward to on entering back after being away. I hope the sheer number of comments on this application show what the people of Chapel actually want as an outcome and not what the applicant wants to make from this land irrespective of better option for the people. We've lost too much green space across the country to risk losing any more.
