Comments: A detached house is out of keeping on Queen Street, where all other houses are terraces. Also parking on the street is already very congested. Additional housing will add to this congestion further. Further more, a detached house implies a large family with potentially 2 or 3 cars.

Generally the planning application is confusing as it refers to 60 Queen Street. 60 Queen Street already exists and this application has nothing do with the current residents at no. 60.
