This is absolutely ridiculous! A public park is for the public to use for recreational activities. The small changes that have been made recently with the extra seating areas and new equipment has been a huge success. The areas are being used for all ages, picnic areas for families whilst children can run around, cycle, skate, practise sports, learn to ride a bike and play. Where are they supposed to do this if these areas are taken away. The town is overcrowded with housing estates and there has been no extra recreational areas made for all the people in these houses! Mental health and wellbeing is more and more promoted, but how are we to support this especially within young children if they haven't got the spaces to play and practise hobbies and sports. The park has a huge grass area already, which can only be used in drier weathers, why would we need another boggy grass area? Taking away the only activity spaces from the town will only cause more unsociable behaviours due to young people becoming bored and having nothing to do at all. Also, looking around other towns in the area, they are well more equipped than Chapel, this will also affect people coming to the town to use the park which will then affect businesses in the town.
