YOUR COMMENTS ON THE CASE

Since Fit Factory opened directly across the road from me the volume of traffic past my house has greatly increased. The houses on Surrey Street opposite the gym are all terraced and as such have only on road parking as an option. Since Fit Factory opened , and although the gym has it's own parking, the on road parking has greatly increased meaning parking for residents is a lot more awkward that previously. We already have the Pilates studio and the football ground users parking on the road as it is!

Noise from the Fit Factory is also an issue, particularly as the premises is open so early every weekday, 6am and also open at the weekend. The circuit training first thing in the morning with the count-down 'beeps' is particularly intrusive as are cars arriving and car doors slamming. At other times of the day loud music and encouraging shouting can be intrusive as my house has the original victorian single glazing at the front.

We have gone from having a work unit open five days a week and open regular business hours to a busy seven days a week concern directly opposite with no prior consultation.
