

Architectural elevation drawing of the south wall of the stone tower at the site of the Roman fort of Eborac. The drawing shows a gabled structure with a stone masonry texture. A label 'MISSING ROOF COVERING' points to the upper part of the wall. Two windows are labeled 'W-1-01' and 'W-G-01'. A horizontal line is labeled 'STONE'. The drawing includes a vertical scale on the left with elevations from 199m to 206m.

Architectural elevation drawing of the exterior of the building. The drawing shows a gabled roof with slate roofing and stone walls. The building features a large central door labeled 'W-G-06' and two smaller windows labeled 'W-G-05' and 'W-G-04'. A vertical scale on the left indicates elevations from 198m to 205m, with labels for 'SLATE ROOFING' and 'STONE'.

EXISTING EAST ELEVATION 1:100
