Comments: I fully support this application. I am a member at the gym and really value the added benefits of outdoor training. It is a relatively small gym but the option of indoor and outdoor training within the session gives added value, as well as extra space. Being outdoors has proven benefits for mental health, so this fits with the ethos of the gym in improving physical and mental health. It would be very short sighted for this opportunity to be denied and the gym managers and members are very happy to work collaboratively to prevent or ease any concerns by neighbours.
