Comments: The gym and its owners are an absolute force for good. Community spirit, mental health, physical health, team building, This outside space is vital to them developing all of this further and vital for the people who attend to benefit. All of the members and coaches are mindful of local residents. I am honestly at a loss to understand how anyone can object to something so positive, and especially when there used to be a (presumably noisy at times) pub on the site!
