Comments: This planning permission for the outdoor space is so important because it allows me and other people who strive to live a healthier lifestyle to go and exercise outside, in the fresh air. This is such a positive asset to helping me, us develop physical and mental healthy habits. Working out in the fresh air is important. Moreover there is no intention to be outside all day everyday, the intention is to use it at a minimal capacity through the week and not cause disruption.

I want to add that Fitness in Mind is not just any normal gym, as it provides a safe and positive space for the community to support physical and mental wellbeing. This is a very positive way to use a beautiful space which was otherwise not used.
