Comments: High Street Buxton is within the conservation area. 28a High Street is within a terrace of shops that all have glazed bay windows and single door access to either the centre of 2 bays or to one side. 28a formerly had a large glazed bay window with recessed door to the side. The 'new' frontage has removed the bay window completely and moved the position of the door. It is noticeably different to the other frontages that have maintained the traditional bay. The new frontage is not necessary for the running of the proposed usage of the sale of hot food for takeaway and eating on the premises. The premise historically was a restaurant and take away (Dub Bar, Diablos, etc) and there are several similar businesses on the terrace who have managed to retain the bay window(s) and door position. As such I object to this application with the premise frontage being restored to its original appearance.
