Comments: With all the effort taken by so many of the local bodies, (elected, charitable and voluntary) planning regeneration in the best interests of Buxton, that has already seen three shop fronts in Spring Gardens and another three on the High Street almost next door to the premises seeking permissions (Buxton, Boogaloo and the bakery) being restored to a traditional style commensurate with a Conservation Area, it seems a shame to allow development which is completely contrary to all the goals apparently planned for the future of Buxton. The graphic showing the proposed shop front for this establishment is really totally inappropriate. Luckily, the original style sign board over the newly fitted glazed frontage, with the original details at either end of the sign board, have now been revealed and hopefully they can be saved.
