Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

GEN/2024/0049

- Although the listing of the main building makes no reference to the outbuilding, as it falls within the curtilage of the main building, we would also view the outbuilding to be Listed. Therefore, you will be required to submit a planning application as well as a Listed building consent application for the proposed development.
- Based on the details submitted, we are content with the proposed external alterations to the barn on the whole. Utilising the existing openings of the building is something which we are supportive of. We would be unlikely to support the addition of any more openings on the elevations of the building.
- The addition of roof lights to the barn is something which we could consider as acceptable, however due to the listing on the main building at the site, we would need to see conservation style roof lights. I would perhaps suggest reducing the number of roof lights, in particular on the principal elevation roof plane.
- The building would need to remain ancillary to the use of the host dwelling. If the proposed development were to be approved, it would be conditioned on the decision notice that the building could not be sold as a separate residency without obtaining planning permission to do so. Furthermore, this would not likely be approved due to the proximity of the outbuilding to the main building.

Ownership Certificates and Agricultural Land Declaration

Certificates under Article 14 - Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 & Regulation 6 - Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990

Please answer the following questions to determine which Certificate of Ownership you need to complete: A, B, C or D.

Is the applicant the sole owner of all the land to which this application relates; and has the applicant been the sole owner for more than 21 days?

- ☒ Yes
- ☐ No

Is any of the land to which the application relates part of an Agricultural Holding?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Certificate Of Ownership - Certificate A

I certify/The applicant certifies that on the day 21 days before the date of this application nobody except myself/the applicant was the owner* of any part of the land or building to which the application relates, and that none of the land to which the application relates is, or is part of, an agricultural holding

* 'owner' is a person with a freehold interest or leasehold interest with at least 7 years left to run.
 'agricultural holding' has the meaning given by reference to the definition of 'agricultural tenant' in section 65(8) of the Act.

NOTE: You should sign Certificate B, C or D, as appropriate, if you are the sole owner of the land or building to which the application relates but the land is, or is part of, an agricultural holding.
