Hi James,

Please see comments for HPK/2024/0429 and 0430 – Whitle Fold Cottage

No Objection:

The proposed heat pump will replace an existing external Oil Boiler. The ASHP will be located in an alcove at the rear of the dwellinghouse, as such will not be visible from the principle elevation. There will also be some limited visibility of the ASHP from outside of application site, however, this is considered to be negligible in terms of heritage impact, due to removal of the current oil boiler. As such this is considered to sustain the heritage assets of the listed building and conservation area.

Kind regards,

Rachel Robinson Conservation Officer
