Biodiversity net gain

Biodiversity net gain is a legal requirement for planning permission introduced on 12 February 2024. All applications are required to either provide detailed information proving there will be a biodiversity increase; or explain why the requirement does not apply to the development.

Find out more about biodiversity net gain, and access digital tools from our partners that can help determine if you are exempt, or produce the biodiversity metric information required.

Do you believe that, if the development is granted permission, the general Biodiversity Gain Condition (as set out in Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 \(as amended\)) would apply?

- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

You can use our partner's free online tool to determine if you are exempt and to produce detailed reasons

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:
Over 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:
Site is primarily hardstanding and change of windows and doors will not impact any onsite habitat

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

GEN/2023/0013 - Hyde Bank Court, Hyde Bank Road

Date (must be pre-application submission)

14/06/2023

Details of the pre-application advice received

- Would there be a choice of window style? The development currently has sash windows, would the UPVC type have to be of a sash style or on a like-for-like basis? Sash style would be like-for-like, as the existing are sash. The size of the reveal and proportions of the elevations indicate only sash will suit from a design perspective.
 - Would High Peak Council insist on a specification i.e. sash window with gold handles or specific silicone? Sash window is advised, as above. Internal fittings subject to available manufacturer options. As per comments of Conservation Officer
 - How would you deal with the differences in the windows i.e. there are half moon windows above the doors, some of which have a leaded panel and are integral with the door frame, so if planning permission was not granted for the half-moon then we feel that the whole unit would become unstable. As doors are envisaged to be replaced, it would be logical to replace the fanlights above. Otherwise you would have a plastic door with timber fanlight. Unfortunately, with most plastic units – a lot of detail and amount of glazing is lost due to the size of the frames. To retain some level of design and interest in the fanlight, slimline would be appropriate. As per comments of Conservation Officer
 - Would High Peak Council insist on a particular contractor or number of contractors to undertake the works, should planning permission be granted? Not in this case. As per comments of Conservation Officer
 - How long would the permission last? E.g. if 5 household wanted to do next year, 5 the year after and the final 6 a couple of years later would that all fit under one planning permission. James would you be able to answer this one? It may be an idea to condition timeframes for ease? If every property is considered under the same application and subsequently approved, then the permission would contain a condition that requires a material start to be commenced within 3 years of the Decision Notice being issued. A material start would be commenced by way of the approved works being carried out to the first property, and in this instance, the permission would be protected for as long as is required to complete the works.
 - Would all owners be obligated to proceed together as one large project rather than in their own timeframe? Logic would dictate for it to be one large project. That way all new units will have the same longevity and manufacturer. As per comments of Conservation Officer.
- To conclude:
- It is advised to use a slimline unit, many generic 'conveyor-belt' plastic units are very cumbersome meaning there will be a loss of light across the properties. Simply due to them already being fairly small reveals.
 - Similarly, the details of the fanlights if slimline units will be able to be retained.
 - Colours for the windows are preferred to be white.
 - Colours for the doors subject to drawings. Grey in overly contemporary styles are ill advised.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.
