Subject: New road layout for Bute street old Glossop
Date: 11 February 2025 07:45:13

I heard Friday from a neighbour, yes a neighbour that there are plans to re develop the carriage way on Bute street. This is due to the new plans by cube homes to develop the old shire hill hospital site. Whilst I am in support of the hospital being used again I am objecting totally to the idea of having my front garden virtually demolished to accommodate the new road. I am also really annoyed that I have had no communication from cube regarding this and had to hear it third hand in passing conversation over the weekend. If you wish to speak to me on this matter please feel free to give me a call. I'm not an awkward sort of person but how would you feel if it was you in the same position?. I am on shared ownership here and even though I only own a percentage of the house surely I have some kind of say in this ? Kind regards Paul.
