Submission: Neither

Comments: I live directly opposite where the proposed extension will be built and believe my house is the only one that could be affected, I do not object to the single story build, but I have been advised to comment on an issue with the boundary line. I have discussed this with the applicant and he has agreed to re-instate the fence line to its original position during the works, my concern is, if we move in the future and the boundary line is not where it used to be or, the fence line has been built on, then this would cause issues further down the line.
