Submission: Support

Comments: Essie Grill has become an established food outlet for Buxton providing a good quality alternative to the many take aways on the market place. I am in full support of this hardworking business man retaining his current position outside the train station. Also as a regular user of the train station I find that his premises do not impede the use of either the car park or the train station itself in contrary having spoken to visitors to Buxton they appreciate that there is fresh food and drinks on offer in the vicinity of the train station.

On a personal note Essie is a dedicated chef and businessman who is trying to support a family and I feel that staying in this location is vital to the continued success of his business.
