- ☐ Yes
- ☒ No

Biodiversity net gain has been introduced as a general condition for planning permission. As set out in The Environment Act 2021: "grants of planning permission in England [are] to be subject to a condition to secure that the biodiversity gain objective is met". Therefore, in England, all planning permissions are generally subject to biodiversity gain rules, unless they are specifically exempt or out of scope.

If you have stated that the biodiversity net gain requirement does not apply to your application you must provide the reason(s) why, and may also need to supply evidence (especially where you believe the application is eligible for the 'de minimis' exemption).

Please add all the reasons why biodiversity net gain does not apply and enter a justification for each one

Reason biodiversity net gain does not apply:

Development subject to the de minimis exemption (development below the threshold)

What best describes the size of your site?:

Under 25 square metres

Please justify the reason why biodiversity net gain does not apply:

Site is only 13.40 metres squared in size.

Note: Please read the help text for further information why developments may be exempt or not in scope.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

* 'Owner' is a person with a freehold interest or leasehold interest with at least 7 years left to run.

 'agricultural tenant' has the meaning given in section 65(8) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990

The steps taken were:

Over the course of 9 years extensive research has been carried out to find the owners of the cistern/conduit and the land on which it stands. This has included consultations with:

High Peak Borough Council who own the peninsular of land on which the cistern/conduit is located but do not take ownership of the cistern/conduit itself.

Derbyshire County Council who believe HPBC to own the cistern/conduit.

DCC Highways

The Chatsworth Estate who may possibly be the owners due to the cistern/conduit potentially being inadvertently excluded from the Chatsworth assets transferred to the Buxton Local Board in 1869.

Solicitors - Currey & Co LLP (Chatsworth's solicitors) and Cooper Sons Hartley & Williams

Through consultations with the above solicitors, the Chatsworth Estate have agreed to waive all rights to the cistern/conduit and the parcel of land on which it stands in favour of Buxton Civic Association who will gain possessory title. Cooper Sons Hartley & Williams will then seek to register BCA's ownership with the land registry for absolute title. If this is rejected they will seek adverse possession of the cistern/conduit.
